

ABSTRACT

[0033] A bus arbitration scheme may include a bus arbiter that grants bus requests based on a combination of both hierarchical ranking and age, where age is an indication of a time interval since a bus request was made but not granted. The hierarchical rankings and the manner in which rankings and age are combined may be programmable. These techniques may also be combined with other arbitration techniques.